The heart of the Drove Veterinary Practice lies within the main hospital, situated beside the M4 flyover on the way to Wroughton. The old purpose built hospital was erected in 1988, with a team of 6 - 7 Vets, offering clients and their pets a first class veterinary service in the Swindon area. Since then the practice has grown immensely, with our veterinary team increasing, with some holding specialist diplomas and certificates - hence we had outgrown the old premises and January 2005 saw the commencement of our new hospital extension. The extension and refurbishment was officially opened on December 7th 2005 by John Hewer Jnr who was a previous partner in the practice.

We move into the future full of anticipation and hope. Our state of the art hospital with its sensational facilities, enables us to offer our clients unrivalled excellence in the local area and we look forward to a long and happy future with local people and their pets.

Our future... designed for the life time care of your pets
